Warm up

Each of the team members selects the photo which describes the status quo of the team most accurately.

In the following plenary session everybody describes shortly why he/she choose this photo.

Everybody should explain his/her photo and can choose the next presentator.

Review & Status Quo

Instructions

The three questions should be asked one after the other:

For each question 1' preparatory time and then everybody should be giving his/her answers

Be aware at the last question that teams open up more openly if everybody is noting down his/her answer individually on a card and then the whole team is showing the answer at the same time

Target of each question is exchanging opinions and training that everybody takes a conversational turn

Review & Status Quo

on psychological safety

- What was difficult / easy for us?
- Where did we learn something new?
- How satisfied are we with our team climate?
(on a scale of 1-10)
